Whiskies of Distinction

INTRODUCTION

At A. D. Rattray we believe whisky is the finest and most interesting spirit in the world.

It's why we're always bringing you exciting, distinctive whiskies to discover and enjoy. Our dedication to whisky dates back to 1868, when our family began selecting and maturing Scotland's best casks of single malt whisky.

Today we continue to select the highest quality spirit and casks for the A. D. Rattray Cask Collection and our award-winning Casks of Scotland single malt range.

With time-honoured skills passed down through the generations, we create distinctive expressions of character and cask maturation.

Every bottle has a story to tell.

OUR HISTORY

Founded by Andrew Dewar Rattray in 1868.

A. D. Rattray has been a family business involved in the blending and maturation of Single Malt Scotch Whisky since 1868. The company's horse-drawn carts, carrying cases of fine wine and spirits, were a familiar sight on Clydeside and in Central Glasgow during the late 1800s.

Today, the company Andrew Dewar Rattray founded is based on the West coast of Scotland and in the hands of the Morrison family whose name and reputation are steeped in whisky history.

Over 150 years of bringing whisky to the world.

OUR TEAM

We are an independent, family-owned whisky company with a long whisky-loving heritage.

Following the death of Andrew Dewar Rattray, the company he began continued to prosper thanks to the guardianship of the Walker Morrison family.

The Morrison family continue to head up the team at A. D. Rattray, led by the chairman Stanley W. Morrison and his son Stanley A. Morrison, and supported by a team of dedicated and passionate people.

With the skills and knowledge that have been then passed down through generations, we work hard to bring the highest quality spirit and casks to the world.

OUR ETHOS

Only the finest whiskies are selected for bottling under the A. D. Rattray name.

As an independent whisky company we select single casks of maturing whisky from distilleries across Scotland and seasoned casks from around the world to fill with new make spirit.

The changing dynamics and developing flavour notes in each cask are carefully monitored over time. Regular samples from all of our casks are sent to our Sample Room to be nosed and assessed.

This ensures the quality of our final whiskies live up to the reputation of our name.

We craft true whiskies of distinction.

CASK COLLECTION

Single cask Scotch whisky is at our heart.

At A. D. Rattray we go to great lengths to source interesting and unusual casks from the six traditional whisky regions of Scotland. Each distillery represented is different and every cask is unique.

When we judge that a cask has reached the peak of perfection, we bottle it at its natural strength, colour and with no chill-filtration.

This retains the true essence of the spirit and cask interaction for your enjoyment.

There are 4 releases of our Cask Collection per year and for each release we choose between 6 and 8 casks for bottling.

As is the nature of single cask whiskies, these expressions are extremely limited in number.

VINTAGE CASK COLLECTION

These very rare, exquisite whiskies are among the finest in our portfolio.

The casks have been selected from some of Scotland's most respected distilleries and are bottled at vintages rarely found.

Sometimes during the selection process for the A. D. Ratray Cask Collection range exceptional casks come to light. These will be carefully managed and monitored over the years and bottled as part of this special Vintage range only when they have reached their prime.

As with all of our single cask bottlings, these are also bottled at cask strength with no additives so you may enjoy the whisky in its purest and most natural form.

A rare delight for whisky lovers.

STRONACHIE

Single Malt Scotch Whisky

Stronachie, one of the legendary names in the archive of vanished distilleries, lives on with this Highland Single Malt.

Decades after the Stronachie Distillery closed, we acquired a bottle of original 1904 Stronachie at an auction... one of only four bottles left in existence. A small sample of whisky was drawn from this bottle, tasted and compared to samples from other Highland malt whiskies.

We revived the delicate style, character and flavour of Stronachie by using spirit from Benrinnes Distillery. Like the original, Benrinnes is located in a remote, high altitude wilderness. The new make spirit is matured in ex-bourbon or sherry casks before bottling in small batches as 10 year old Stronachie Single Malt.

Lost in time, not in spirit...
